School Policies

- The Idaho Real Estate Commission requires that you attend 100% of your class. The exceptions are for new agent and broker classes. For those courses, the instructor may be able to assign outside work for (non-excessive) absences.
- Breaks are held roughly every hour. Use that time to return calls, check your email, etc. Please return to your seat promptly so class can restart.
- The Idaho Real Estate Commission is very adamant in requiring that we curb electronic distractions:
  - Turn off your cell phone — Don't just place it on vibrate.
  - No texting.
  - No web browsing (on a computer or mobile device).
- Be respectful to both your instructor and your fellow students. Participate but be polite. And, avoid creating distractions.
- We post courses directly to your Idaho licensing record shortly after a course is completed. We also provide a certificate for your own records.
- Our refund policy is simple. If you let us know at least 5 days before a class starts, you can receive your payment back minus a $15 administrative fee. If you give us notice before a class starts, you can apply your fee to another, future course. Once a class has started, no refund will be given. If we cancel a course, you will be entitled to a full refund.
- If you have a disability and require assistance, please let us know. We will do our best to accommodate.
